

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Week of: December 12th- December 16th, 2011

Mr. Mumaw's Memoirs

Dear Parents,

This is the last week of school before Christmas Break, and what a busy week we have ahead of us. It is a week filled with learning, class work, tests, Christmas package wrapping, helping load up Christmas presents, and celebrating Christmas here in our class. This week we have a Math test on Monday, a Language test on Thursday, and our normal Spelling test will also be on Thursday. I moved the Spelling test to Thursday, so that Friday can be reserved for celebrating.

Tuesday afternoon the 4th and 5th Grade classes will be wrapping the Joy Gift boxes for Mission Solano. It will be a great time of celebrating all of the amazing gifts donated to help other children in need. Thursday afternoon we have the opportunity to help load up those gifts into the Mission Solano truck and send them off with God's blessing. It is a great time of year!! By the way, we still need a lot more gifts for Joy boxes. The deadline is Monday afternoon.

Finally, Friday we will be celebrating with our Christmas party. The student requested that we do a book exchange and cookie party. Please have your student bring some cookies to share and a wrapped book. If you are buying or making cookies, please remember they can not have any peanuts. I cannot wait; this is going to be an amazing week, filled with God's blessing and His presence.

Serving the King,
Mr. Mumaw
